

FILM-204A : Advanced Screenwriting

Course material explores the more esoteric elements of screenwriting, including the creative process and the proper application of exposition, subtext and character to writing assignments. After this class, students should have a clearer idea about how to become a more productive writer and a more creative artist. *Registration by petition only. Prospective students should email 3-5pages of screenwriting sample to film@artcenter.edu prior to registration.
